PARTICIPANT'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RISKS

Name of Camper (Please print): _____

My child and I have read a description of the camp activities my child is about to participate in and understand the hazards and risks of the intended activities related to the trip. Certain hazards and risks are inherent in camp activities and cannot be eliminated without destroying the unique character of the activities. These inherent risks are some of the same elements that contribute to the unique character of camp but can be the cause of destruction, loss or damage to equipment, personal property, personal injury, illness, suffering, or in extreme cases, permanent trauma or death.

Camp activities may take place in a wilderness environment and may include: climbing, hiking, backpacking, swimming, whitewater rafting, kayaking, canoeing, mountain biking, fire building and cooking, and camping in remote, wilderness areas in developed and undeveloped campgrounds. Camp activities may also include transportation, sometimes at night, to and from Endless Adventure. The participant may spend a nights outdoors.

In addition to the hazards and risks described above, the hazards and risks of the camp activities may also include, but are not limited to, the following: acts of other participants (including from the failure of other participants to follow instructions or obey safety regulations), manufacturers defects or malfunctions in equipment, weather conditions (including unforeseen, inclement or intemperate weather), consumption of food and drink, fire, first aid, emergency treatment, or other services provided.

Endless Adventure will not have medical personnel, other than a certified first aid and swift water rescue councillor at the location of the camp activities or at Endless Adventure.

I acknowledge that engaging in camp activities may require a degree of skill and knowledge different than other activities of Endless Adventure and that my child has responsibilities as a participant to act prudently and carefully.

I certify that my child is fully capable of participating in the camp activities. My child is in good health and physically fit and has not been advised by a physician not to participate in arduous physical activities. I know of no reason, health- related or otherwise, why my child is not capable of participating in the camp activities.

I acknowledge that I have read and completed fully the Medical Form provided by Endless Adventure and accept full responsibility for omissions, errors or out-of-date information on that form.

I fully understand and appreciate the risk of injury, illness, property loss or theft, and even death inherent in the camp activities. I further understand that unforeseen circumstances may arise that have not been identified.

I acknowledge that I have read the clothing and equipment list provided by Endless Adventure and accept full responsibility for inadequate clothing or equipment and for clothing and equipment which I fail to provide to my child.

I acknowledge that the staff of Endless Adventure has been available to more fully explain to me the nature and physical demands of these camp activities and the inherent risks, hazards and dangers associated with them.

Therefore, in consideration of being permitted to participate in this activity, I assume all risks and accept full responsibility surrounding my child's participation in the camp activities, the transportation related to them and any activities undertaken as an adjunct there to, which risks include illness, injury and death.

Dismissal

Camp Summit is a fun place – independence and freedom are important at camp! In the spirit of community living, campers are expected to be respectful and mindful of others around them. Therefore, some of the basic rules and expectations (from home and school) are still valid and important at camp. All rules are designed around safety and respect. Campers are expected to take responsibility in caring for themselves and others. Campers are asked to respect the environment and the camp setting.

The following behaviours or actions are NOT tolerated at Endless Adventure: bullying and/or harassment, alcohol and/or drug consumption, smoking, use of profanity (swearing), theft, vandalism, and aggressive defiant /disorderly conduct.

The Camp Director reserves the right to withdraw any camper without warning who, in their opinion, compromises the physical or emotional safety of any person at camp, or who is an immediate hazard to the safety of themselves or others. Endless Adventure will also remove a camper who is negatively affecting the experience of another camper or group of campers.

Reservations / Deposit

A minimum deposit of $50 must accompany each registration in order to reserve your spot. Please note that the full payment is due by July.1, 2012. Statements are issued after confirmation of enrolment and full payment. Amendments or cancellations will produce a revised statement. This deposit is non refundable.

Refund Policy

A full refund minus the $50 deposit is available before July 11.2012. All fees are non-refundable.

There will be no refund made for any camper leaving camp due to sickness, nor for arriving late or leaving early. No refund will be available for campers dismissed from camp for breaching camp rules.

You may receive emails as the summer approaches to notify you of any changes or other information deemed important for the Camp season. Please keep an eye out for these.

I have read the Registration Notes and I understand the refund policy for Endless Adventure as detailed:
